CAIRO TIMES

CAIRO, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 22, 1865.

Our Commercial Position.

OUR NEW YORK READERS.

The CAIRO TIMES is the only paper ever published in Illinois which had a branch in New York and a place upon the file of every respectable hotel within the city. The TIMES has also an authorized Agent in the city, whose exact location will be announced in a few days. The position of Cairo, located as it is, at the junction of the two mighty rivers, the Ohio and Mississippi, and at the head of navigation during the winter season, and times of low water, is, we believe, universally conceded as destined to be one of most important commercia points on this continent. Indeed, it may be set down as being the greatest natural gateway in the world, equalled only in natural advantages by the Isthmus of Suez and Panama, but in its surroundings surpassing either or both. Full 200,000 people step from off the palatial steamers of the rivers named upon our levees per year, and a corresponding amount of freight is yearly unloaded here, and when the Hallroads, now projected, surveyed, and which will be built within the next two years, join the Illinois Central Railroad, running North, and the Mobile & Ohio Railroad, running South, Cairo will, of necessity, become the great entrepot of the staples of the South. and the radiating point from whence the great East will look for and receive its supplies.

Our agent and corresponding editor, A. B. STILLMAN, will call upon the leading business men of New York, in person, and solicit advertising patronage. The TIMES is not a political journal. Its speciality is to promulgate commercial intelligence, foster business interests and disseminate the latest and fullest news of the day. Upon every incoming train of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad it meets the eve of the Southern merchant on his way East to purchase, and is supplied to passengers by steamers Northward bound, when they reach Columbus, Kentucky. As an advertising medium, therefore, the intelligent reader will readily realize the importance of the TIMES And the fact of its being so prominently and generally circulated in the hotels of New York, renders it an available home medium, through which the foreign merchant on his arrival in the city, can see the invitations of the most enterprising merchants to call and examine their

BUILDING IN OUR CITY.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE OF THE ARAB FIRE COMPANY.

Full Description Thereof.

Estimated Cost.

How the Money is to be Raised, &c.

We have heretofore directed special attention to the many buildings going and gone up the present year, and in many cases provided, for the information of our readers, all lacts the next Fourth of July. When completed it connected, cost of erection, size, contemplated use, &c. We think we hazard nothing in say- it and monument to the Company erecting it. ing that in no city in the Union of equal or quadruple our population, is there so much department of the enterprise, that the charter provement going on as in Cairo in this A. tiquously, brick, lime, &c. Cairo has thus far proved herself invincible to either flood or ire. Nothing short of an earthquake can shake our people or disturb their equilibrium. As a city, we are very young. But we learned to walk very fast, and are now making rapid strides in the race with old cities for the championship in the arena of commerce.

But we are diverging from our intended track. Upon all the streets of Cairo are very creditable buildings being erected-some of them not only creditable, but of huge propertions and appearance-and we are pleased to add that those built this year are but a very small fraction as compared to the number in contemplation, and which will raise their fronts next season.

On Monday evening last, on passing up Comnercial Avenue, we stepped into the Arab Engine House, and there found the company holding its regular monthly meeting. The number present was sixty, comprised of the very best citizens of Cairo, from the laboring man up to the wealthy, all of whom were busily engaged in devising plans for the future of their association-the protection of our citizens and their property. While we were present they also accepted the ladder, hooks, and carriage of the old Egyptian Company, and took into their ranks some of the most prominent citizens of Cairo, who were members of the old Hook and Ladder Company, now one of the institutions of the past. This addition, when the division organization is perfected, will make the Arab Steam Fire Engine Company one of the most perfect in the United States.

This Company has now on exhibition at the City National Bank, a front drawing or plan of their contemplated New Engine House, to be built on Commercial Avenue, on the site of their present structure. Its appearance, in architectural beauty and taste, will, in-our estimation, surpass any building in the State of Ilinois. The plan of the building was designed by the President of the Company, Jack Winter, and is so arranged as to provide all the modern improvements essential to a first-class engine house. It is also planued with a view to return to the Company a handsome remunerative rental. The architect, P. A. Nicholson, deserves great credit for his skill as exhibited in the drawing alluded to. We will now as briefly as possible give a description of the building, estimated cost, &c. The front of the building will be three stories and 44 feet in breadth, the heighth of the first or lower story will be 14 feet in the clear. One half of it will be occupied as an engine house, while the other half will be fitted up as store. Dividing the engine house and store, will be a centre entrance to the next story. The second story will be 15 feet in the clear, and will be fitted up into five side offices, 12x17 each, with two front offices 17x20. Between the front and rear offices on this floor, will be built a fine fire-proof vault. It will also be provided with a council chamber and meeting hall 20x60, capable of seating 300 persons. A portion of this floor or of the offices designated. is intended for the use of the city and its officers, and will be the best locality in the city. The third story will be a magnificent hall 42x88 and 25 feet between floor and ceiling; its seating capacity will be 1,000 persons. The height of the building from base to balustrade, will be 61 feet-to the top of the obsevatory 76 feet-to the top of the flag-staff 92 feet. The foundation of the house is to be stone, with a large reservoir or cistern underneath capable of holding 3,000 barrels of water. The side and rear walls are to be of brick 18 and 13 inches in thickness. The front is to be of massive stone, with four large Corinthian columns 29 feet in heighth supporting the cornice. The second and third stories will sit back in a recess of ten feet, which will give to the front an elegant, substantial and picturesque

The estimated cost of the building is beween twenty-five and thirty thousand dollars. The necessary money the Company propose to raise by orders issued on its Treasurer, payable in ten years or sooner at its option, said orders to draw 10 per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, on coupons attached. Said orders will be endorsed by four of the most responsible property holders in the city, and the orders and bond-holders secured by mortgage on the real estate and personal property of the Company. For the redemption of said bonds or orders, the revenue calculated to be derived from the rental of the building when completed, independent of the portion used by the Company, will, at the lowest estimate, be $5,000 the first year. This amount will pay the first year's interest on the bonds issued and liquidate $2,000 of the principal, so that every year, as our city increases in size and importance, the revenue of the building will be greater. Heuce, with each succeeding year the company will have less interest to pay and more means to liquidate the principal, and figures cannot be reasonably hypothecated and made to show a longer period in which the bonds will be redeemed than seven years. In negotiating the bonds there will surely be little or no trouble, the security being ample. The building will be contracted for during the present month, so that most of the work can be got ready during the winter, and render spring work favorable and convenient. We learn that the Arabs intend having the Masonic fraternity lay the corner stone of their temple with the usual rites and ceremonies of the order, and design dedicating the building on will be an ornament to Cairo and a lasting cred-We might add, in relation to the financial of the Arab Company provides that when it

Grant-The General's Speech-Extensive Claim Frauds-The Shenandoah to be Sent to New York-Her Captain and Crew Unconditionally Pardoned.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. - The Tribune's Washngton special says Judge Advocate Chipman has resigned his position in the army and will practice law in Washington.

Private letters from Texas say that the celored troops in that section are soon to be mustered out. This probably accounts for the sending of regular troops to the Rio Grande. The successor of Senator Colomer will probably be Wm, Hubbard.

The Secretary of State yesterday issued an order prohibiting any member of the press entering that Department.

Intelligence has been received at the Freedmen's Bureau, that certainjudges in Maryland, recently sentenced a colored woman to be sold into slavery for twenty years.

The World's dispatch says letters have been received from Corpus Cristie dated October 10th which say that it is very sickly among the troops. Gen, Russell commanding the post and more than half his officers are down with the break-bone fever. Transportation is so limited that his brigade will doubtless be removed from that post, Notwithstanding the severe rain an immense throng gathered in the vicinity of the Hotel. At the conclusion of the reception ceremonies Gen. Grant and party set down to a splendid supper prepared for only a few distinguished persons.

In reply to the toast drank to his health, Gen. Grant said : I am greatly indebted to the citizens, ladies and gentlemen of New York city, for the great kindness I have received during the few days that I have been with you. You know it is not my habit to make speeches. and I hope that you will excuse me from saying more than that I thank you from the bottom of my heart. This P. M. Gen. The President of the road would not let the chartered train go out. The regular 7:30 train was detained, and no train was sent out until 11 o'clock. The principals with some friends reached Esperance, last evening, and many believe the fight is now going on, although a cold rain has been falling for several hours. FOREIGN NEWS.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday evening, Nov. 11 .-The pirate Shennandoah has been handed over to the American Consulate, and the Captain and crew have been engaged to take her to New York. It is reported that Italy was about to reduce her army considerably.

LONDON, Nov. 12 .- A supplement to the ondon Gazette contains further additional correspondence between Messrs. Adams and Russell relative to the departure of cruisers for the rebels from England. Russell repears the argument that the British Government asked, upon precedent, and supplies a memorandum showing that steps were taken to prevent and punish the breachers of neutrality. The London Times says: It is impossible for the American Government to abandon the claims for the depredations of the Alabama, but it is quite possible for a government to vield nothing yet do nothing. We must prepare to be told that the United States will abate no jot of its demands, and will reserve the right of enforcing them. But still, when the temper of the people is sounded, when commerce has had time to renew the links which bind the two nations together, the memories of war fade into the past, there will be little disposition te dwell on the unfortunate but inev-table casualties. The London Daily News confidently dismisses the supposition that the Alabama claims can become a direct cause of war between the two countries; but it trusts that semething will yet be done to bring the dispute to an early practical settlement, for it is one which can in no other way be disposed of. It would be an eternal disgrace if both governments should confess themselves unable to find any but a violent solution of their differences But there is a state of nominal peace, which has many of the disac vantages of war. The liberation of the Captain and crew of he pirate Shenandoah is said to have been unconditional, the British Government being of the opinion that there are no legal grounds upon which they could be detained. Captain Waddell, in a letter to Earl Russell, which is published, says: In obedience to orders I ound myself in the Arctic, and was far removed from the ordinary channel of commerce; and in consequence of this awkward circumstance I was ignorant of the reverse suffered by the Confederates, and the total obliteration of the government under which acted. I received the first intelligence of the downfall of the Confederate cause on the 21 d of August, from the British Bark, Barracouchs. and desisted immediately from further attacks of war until I could communicate with an European port and learn it the intelligence was true. could not have been sensible that the tales told by American ships were true, but merely upon the statement of a British Captain. I dil gently sought for a precedent in law for guidance in the future control, management and final disposal of the vessel, but found none. Finding the authorities questionable under which he actad, he immelately ceased cruising, and shaped her course for the Atlantic. He did not feel justified in destroying the vessel, but on the contrary, thought the ship should revert to the American Government. He therefore sought Liverpool to learn the news, and if without foundation to surrender the ship, with her guns, stores and apparal complete to the British Government, for such disposal as it should deem proper. The Shenandoah was surrendered to the American Consul on the 10th, who took general possession. and placed her under Capt. Freeman and a crew of his own selection, to carry the ship to Tom Sayers, the pugilist, is dead. He died
